THE BRYANT ELECTRIC CO.

ANTI-NOISE CRUSADE IS INAUGURATED BY POLICE DEPARTMENT

A crusade, against persons who persist in breaking the quiet of the Sabbath by yelling loudly while dispensing their wares, will be inaugurated by the police. At last evening's meeting of the police commissioners, Superintendent J. H. Redgate was told to warn the captains of the precincts that all shouting on Sunday must be obliterated and that the sergeants and policemen on whose beats peddlers do the hollering, will be brought up on charges.

The views of the board were expressed last evening when Commissioner J. H. Redgate stated that something must be done to stop peddlers of ice, especially, from loudly proclaiming their sales on Sunday. He stated that particularly on the East Side, ice men drive about and cause much noise by yelling. The commissioner stated that he was not opposed to the sale of ice but that the yelling should be stopped.

President Stanley stated that the sergeants had been warned to be on the lookout for such dealers who create nuisance and after the superintendent had been instructed to issue warrants to the sergeants, it was agreed by the commissioners that the sergeants or policemen who do not stop the practice shall be brought up on charges.

In the edict to dispense with the noise, the commissioners have included newsboys who go about the streets on Sunday evenings selling an afternoon edition of a New York paper and calling it an "extra." The commissioner stated that they are determined to stamp out this practice of selling "fake" extras and will have the policemen arrest any found selling them.

Carl Schloss of the Bronx was brought while bathing at Rockaway beach.

THE RICH MAN'S SON AT WORK

Sentiment among men of wealth in America is favorable to work. They usually began poor and they know the tonic qualities of daily toil. They realize that only through struggle can life's pleasures have real zest. A man does not enjoy luxury much unless he has fought for his position and made it with his own hands. The rich man usually wants his boy to strike out somewhere and create something he can call his own.

About now, therefore, many of these boys, having finished their education, are looking for work. They do not have to ask from door to door like their classmates. Some friend usually knows of a favorable opportunity to be had through influence. Often they start in their father's business.

They are usually given special chances for advancement. Their friends see to it that they are not kept grinding at routine tasks year after year in which they get no general knowledge of a business. If there is a vacancy, they are apt to be pushed ahead.

In other respects it is about an even race for everyone. Friendship and pull will open doors of opportunity, but that is all. An equally high standard of work is expected and must be achieved.

Often the rich man's son has to encounter prejudice and dislike from others who consider that he has been favored. It takes much tact for him to handle the fellows around him who may be jealous of his opportunities.

Business is a great school of democracy. These young men have to learn that social distinctions stop at the mill door, and they bring no business. Many a fellow who left school a mere helpless pet of his father's comes out a wholly different creature in a few years. He has become capable of building his own future and has been turned from a mere pensioner of luxury into an independent producer of wealth of his own. It has made a man of him.

Emperor Francis Joseph of Austria is reported ill.
